S. SCHULTZ, AT DERVER-THE CLEW WHICH LED James Orr, a trusted employe of the firm of Schultz. Southwick & Co., leather dealers at No. 111 Chiff-st. disappeared mysteriously on the moining of March 4. He had been in the service of that firm for twenty-three years, and then had the entire tharge of its bide department. It was supposed at first that Orr had been drowned or murdered, and the police were instructed to keep a sharp loakout for his body. Last Friday, however, Schultz, Soothwick & Co. discovered that Orr's accounts were not correct and they accordingly instructed Superntendent Walling to arrest him if he could be found. His wife was not informed of his dishonesty, however. TO BIS DISCOVERY.

this wife was not informed of his dishonesty, however.

Friday night Mrs. Orr received a dispatch from her husband, stating that he was at Denver, Colorado, and she immediately sent it to Mr. Schultz. He informed Superintendent Walling, and instructions were sent to the Denver police to arrest Orr. This was done, and Detective Lanther started last night for the West to bring him back to this city. When found he had in his possession a certificate of deposit for $2.000 in the First National Bank of Denver and $200 in money.

Mr. Schultz said last night to a Tribune reporter that he could not understand Orr's motive for dishonesty. He received a salary of $1,800 a year from the firm, and opportunities were given to him to make money in other ways. He had saved considerable money and owned a valuable house in Brooklyn. He had a wife and four children, with whom he seemed to hve happily. His wife had been completely prostrated by her insfortune, and had said since her husband's disappearance, "Whatever has happened, Mr. Schultz, you may be certain James's accounts are correct." Mr. Schultz said that the amount of Orr's embezzlement had not yet been ascertained, but it was probably over $3,000.

John Stebbins, a smallpox patient in the Reception Hospital, at the foot of East Sixteenth-st. broke out of his room vesterday morning and knocking down those who attempted to stop him, sprang into the river and was drowned. Stebbins was a tramp. Friday Dr. Flunn, of the Vaccination Burean, saw him in a crowd of men at the foot of East Twenty-sixth-st., and on his blotched face recognized the eruption of smallpox. He took the man to the Reception Hospital, and yesterday he should have been transferred to Blackwell's Island. The Reception Hospital is a long one-story structure. A plazza with a strong iron fence rius along its south front on the pier; at its east end this abuts an the river, and at the entrance from the street are gates that are kept locked and barred. The rooms in which the patients are open upon the plazza. Yesferday morning a woman nurse went to Stebbins's bed with his breakfast. The patient was delirious, and no sooner saw her than he sprang from his cot, knocked the unrse down and ran out on the piazza. A man named Howell, who is employed in the hospital, was carrying out ashes from the building, and the gate at the river end was open. Stebbins saw this, and with a lean reached the open air. Howell threw himself in his way and grappled with him, but, hurling him aside, the tramp sprang into the river and sank. His body did not rise to the surface. The affair was reported to the Board of Health, and the Sanitary superintendent ordered an investigation in order to ascertain if there was any neglect on the part of the employees at the hospital. Stebbins was thirty-seven years old, and his name appears on the records of the Health Department as William Stebbins. At the hospital he gave the naine of John Stebbins.

THE RESULT OF BUFRIENDING A TRAMP. THE RESULT OF BLFRIENDING A TRAMP.

Mrs. Rosanna O'Connor, of No. 12 St. Luke'splace, had her sympathies aroused several weeks ago by the appeal of Patrick Hogan, a tramp, for comething to cat, a place to sleep in and something to do. He said that he had looked for work in vain, and was footsore and wears, and that he would like to sleep in the cellar or on the basement floor if she would permit him, and would be willing in return to do her errands and chores. Mrs. O'Connor gave the fellow shelter, for which he seemed very grateful, and apparently he set about his work with great earnestshelter, for which he seamed very grateful, and apparently he set about his work with great earnestness. About a week ago she gave him 50 cents and sent him to a grocery store to purchase some eggs, at the same time leaving her satchel, which contained $120 m money, a pair of bracelets, a necklace and other ornaments, on the dining room table. Returning in a few minutes she found on the table a package of eggs, but the satchel was missing. Patrick had also disappeared. Mrs. O'Connor reported her loss to the police, and gave a description of the min. The matter was placed in the hands of Detectives Dilks and Flanigan, of the Ninth Precinct, who traced the thief to Albany, where Dilks arrested him Friday night. Yesterday morning the prisoner was before Justice Patterson, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, and was remanded for examination. Mrs. O'Connor identified him.

PUTTING THE BLAME ON MYTHICAL BOYS.

As Miss Lizzie Hasson, of No. 71 Madison-ave., was passing through Nineteenth-st., between Sixth and Seventh-aves. Friday afternoon, sne felt a tugging at her dress and heard the jingle of some silver on the sidewalk. She found that her pocketbook, containing $39 75, had been stolen, and she saw two boys running away. She pursued them and told Officer Ketchum, of the Twenty-mith Preemet, whom she met, of her loss. After a long chase the officer captured the boys, who described themselves as John Mahoney, age fourteen, of No. 116 West Nineteenth-st., and Walter McGowan, age twelve, of No. 130 West Nineteenth-st. As the money was not found upon them, it was supposed they threw it away. The boys were before Justice Patterson, at the Jefferson Market Poince Court, yesterday morning, when they denied stealing the pocketbook and said that there was a number of other boys in the street at the time. This Miss Hasson denied, alleging that there were only three boys in the street at the time of the robbery—the prisoners and one other who escaped. She said that she had known them by sight for six months. They were hald for trial in $1,000 bail cach. PUTTING THE BLAME ON MYTHICAL BOYS.

Friday night Officer Germain, of the Tenth Precinct, ascertained that Aaron Spitz, age twenty-six, of No. 21 Clinton-st., had found the missing property. Spitz, although admitting that he had found the pocketbook, declined to give it up. He was arrested and was taken before Justice Smith, in the Essex Market Police Court, yesterday. He was advised to relinquish the money, but he persistently refused, and was held to await the action of the Grand Jury in default of bail.

INDICTMENT OF COUNTERFEITERS.

The counterfeiters who were arrested Thursday have been indicted by the Grand Jury. They will be arraigned in the United States Circuit Court on Tuesday to plead. The prisoners had been at one time clerks it, a Chatham-st. hotel, but not the Howard House.

THE VESTA BOUGHT BY F. F. AYER. Frederick F. Ayer purchased yesterday of S. M. Milh the schooser yacht Vesta, which is now lying at New-Londou, but will be brought to New-York soon and fitted up for a voyage. Her new owner intends to make a cruise to Labrador in the coming summer. Mr. Ayer said to a Tribense reporter yesterday: "I bought the Vesta on account of her speed, as I believe her to be one of the fastest boats of her length ever built. Her record in the ocean race of 1866 shows her to have been undoubtedly the most capable of the three boats in point of speed. The run was made between December 11 and Christmas, from Sandy Hook to Clowes, England; the time of the Henrietta being 13 days, 22 hours and 46 minutes. The Vesta was shead eight days out of thirteen, and was the first to sight the Scilly Isles. Mismanagement and bad steering caused the defeat, which was not the result of any fault of the boat."

The Vesta was recently rebuilt and lengthened. Her present dimensions are 117 feet over all, 25 feet beam, and 9 feet 10 ruches draught.

RESIGNATION OF JUDGE CHOATE.

Judge William G. Choafe, of the United States District Court for this district, has forwarded his resignation to Washington. His reason for retirung from the bench is solely that the salary of $4.000 a year is inadequate compensation for the severe labor attached to the position. He was nominated by President Hayes as the successor of Judge Blatchford, March 14, 1878, on the latter's promotion to the United States Circuit Court. He was at the time a member of the law firm of Prichard, Choate & Smith, and had been un practice in this city about fifteen years. He was born in Salem, Mass., in 1830, and was graduated at Harvard College in 1852. He studied law at the Harvard Law School, and for many years practised law in Salem. He never held a political office, and when he was nominated by the President for the judgeship he hesitated about accepting the position in consequence of the smallness of the salary attached to the office, He has now decided to return to the practice of his profession.

Judge Choate has been confined to his shouse for a RESIGNATION OF JUDGE CHOATE.

The failure of John B. Kelly, a prominent wholesale butcher of West Washington Market, was announced yesterday, and he made an assignment to Maicolm R. Laurence. The failure is ascribed to losses in trade on account of the depreciation in the prices of hides and fat, and the concentration of the samphtering business in the hands of a few large capitalists who can control prices. Mr. Kelly's liabilities are about $46,000, and it is thought that the actual assets will be about $15,000.

REMARKABLE LETTER

FROM

The Speaker of the House.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. February 12, 1881.

February 12, 1831. 5

For the first time in life I am induced to give a testimonial. Noticing in some paper an advertisement of Dr. Scott's Electric Hair Bruan I sent $3 for one and find it indeed a remarkable brush. My wite has top years suffered with headaches. The brush cures them at once. Several friends have used it for headaches and it has never failed. My wife was also getting prematurely baid, but the brush has entirely stopped the falling hair and started a new growth. I use it to remove daudruff and it works like a charm. Five times the coat could not buy my Brush if I could not replace it. To-day I benght of McAimont, druggist, of this place, two brushes to send to of McAlmont, druggist, of this place, two brushes to send to friends who have tried mine and requested me to buy for them. Colonel Ponder, Mayor of Walnut Ridge, was attacked by a severe case of sick headache while at my house. He was very sick. My wife proposed to try the brush, which he shally consented to do, with no faith in it, however. In three minutes he said he never telt better in his life, and directed me to send him a brush. I have authorized McAlmont, the
